

DEBT$NET MILLENNIUM THE FUTURE OF COLLECTION SOFTWARE

Presenting the Genesis Engine

The Genesis Engine (GE) is the modal that opens whenever a feature in DN$Millennium needs to answer one question: “Which records?” You pick a base table, build filters, optionally pull in data from related tables, choose and shape the columns you want, then preview and export the matching rows. Under the hood, the engine compiles your selection into a single safe, parameterized SQL query – you never write SQL.

GE is the shared engine behind a growing set of DN$Millennium features: ad-hoc reporting, the VoApps campaign builder, the TCN pool builder, mass-update previews, and any future feature that needs to scope work to a subset of accounts, debtors, clients, or other objects of interest.

A screenshot of the Genesis Engine configuration interface. It includes sections for Base entity (Accounts (active)), Filters (AND/OR), Related data (ADD RELATED DATA), Summarize (off), Quick filters (presets) (Has a recent result, Has a notice), and Ordering and limit (ORDER BY, LIMIT).

The Genesis Engine isn't a single screen – it's a reusable utility that any feature can open. It opens from the dashboard for ad-hoc reporting and it is embedded inside other tools. The benefit is consistency: the filtering, joining, column-shaping, and previewing behave identically no matter where you reach the engine from.

Calls, emails, texts, and all other debtor contact modes require high-level contact management. While most accounts are uploaded electronically – manual entry still has a place in operations. Previously, manual debtor entry required dual entry into the Debtor Contact Management screen. No more! Now, during manual entry, the user can decide whether to update the Debtor Contact Management screen or not.

DebtNet$Millennium APIs

Who would you like to see?

One of the many benefits of the DebtNet$Millennium platform is the ease of working with partner vendor APIs. While the development team is continually adding new APIs, which partners would you like to see? What products would make your business more profitable? Please share so we can include it on our list!

Debt$Net® User Forum Dates
